ABOUT ME

Hardworking, responsible and dedicated to work. Able to quickly fit into a new work environment. I consider myself a team "player" even though I have done all my projects on my own so far. I believe that working in a team would raise me to a higher level of knowledge and abilities. I am communicative, I know how to give feedback but also to accept constructive criticism. The qualities that I would especially single out are discipline and learning from mistakes (mine and others). I am ambitious and eager to prove my skills on new projects.
